Adobe program details

Adobe's Commute Alternatives Program helps employees find alternative transportation to and from work that is convenient, affordable and sustainable.

The commute program provides all employees with a $200/month subsidy for transit/vanpooling and transit parking, or a $20/month subsidy for biking. Employees are eligible for one type of subsidy per month. Please keep in mind that the $200 subsidy is for transit/vanpooling and transit parking combined. You may divide the $200 between each of these modes however you choose.

The commuter dollars provided by Adobe are provided free of any payroll implications and are in no way linked to your paycheck. It is provided for you to use as needed.

The commuter dollars count toward the IRS' monthly pre-tax commuter benefits cap of $325 for transit and $325 for parking. Only orders that exceed Adobe's $200 subsidy will be deducted pre-tax from your payroll, up to the respective $325 monthly caps. Amounts exceeding the $325 monthly caps will require payment via personal credit card.

For example: a monthly order of $325 will be broken down as: $200 subsidized by Adobe, $125 deducted pre-tax from payroll.

Beginning with January 1, 2025 the IRS pre-tax limit will be $325 for both Parking and Transit

*Beginning with January 1, 2025 the Adobe commuter subsidy will be $200
