Benefits Explained: HSA, Health Care FSA, and Dependent Care FSA

Adobe

Pay less for healthcare and maximize tax savings

Both FSAs and HSAs let you spend tax-free on eligible medical expenses.

FSAs and HSAs are never taxed at a federal income tax level when used appropriately for qualified medical expenses.

Also, most states recognize FSA and HSA funds as tax deductible with very few exceptions. Please consult a tax advisor regarding your state's specific rules.

Who can I spend my funds on?

- ✓ Both the FSA and HSA allow you to spend your funds on yourself, your spouse and your tax dependents.
- ✓Your spouse and dependents do not need to be on the same health plan in order for you to spend HSA/FSA funds on them.

Employer contributions*

$850

$1,700

Members 55+ can contribute an extra $1000.

^{*}Employer contributions will be included in your total maximum contribution limit.

Who contributes to your account?

- Aetna HealthSave You and Adobe:
 - Eligible employees enrolled in the Aetna HealthSave medical plan will receive contributions spread out per paycheck from January through October (i.e. 22 pay periods) rather than being provided up front
 - Adobe's individual contribution: $38.63 per paycheck (up to $850 per year)
 - Adobe's family contribution: $77,27 per paycheck (up to $1,700 per year)
 - You can also contribute to the HSA
 - The enrollment tool with 'factor in' the expected Adobe contributions when calculating how much employees can contribute.
 - While Adobe will not make HSA contributions in November or December, employees can continue to make their own HSA contributions through December (i.e. 27 pay periods.)
- Aetna HealthSave Basic You only:
- If you elect the Aetna HealthSave Basic medical plan, you can contribute to an HSA (there's no Adobe HSA contribution).
 - NOTE: Only those who are eligible to contribute to an HSA should enroll in the Aetna HealthSave (with HSA) medical plan. If you're enrolled in Medicare or TRICARE, you can enroll in an Aetna HealthSave plan without an HSA (no company HSA funding nor ability to make contributions yourself). When you first enroll, you are asked to certify your eligibility for an HSA as part of the enrollment process. If you are already enrolled, your certification rolls over to the new year but you should review and update if/when you have a change in your eligibility.

55+ contribution options

Roger and Noelle want to take advantage of the 55+ catch-up contribution.

With two individual HDHPs and two HSAs

- + $4,400 contributions x 2 ($8,600)
- + $1,000 catch-up contributions x 2 ($2,000)

$10,800

yearly HSA contributions combined

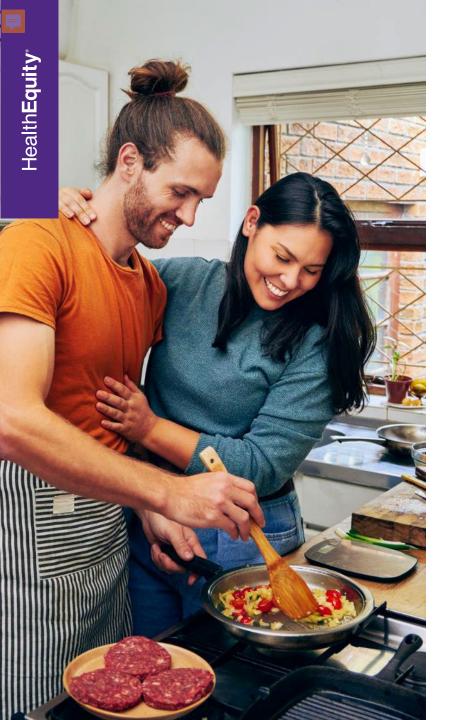

With one HSA and family coverage on an HDHP

- + $8,750 family contribution
- + $1,000 catch-up contribution made for the spouse who owns the family HSA, even if both are age-eligible

$9,750

yearly HSA contribution for one spouse

Making HSA contributions throughout the plan year

Unlike FSAs, employees may be able to change their contributions throughout the year.

- No qualifying life event is required.
- Employees can continue making contributions until tax day (as non-payroll post-tax contributions).

How do I get an HSA?

Sign up for a HDHP and meet these qualifications:

- ✓ Not enrolled in non-HDHP plan or Medicare
- ✓ No access to a healthcare FSA
- ✓ Not claimed as a dependent on anyone's tax return
- ✓ Minimum age to open an HSA is 18
